Are we ready to respond to these calls? Eighty or a hundred thousand dollars have been contributed by the churches within the last two years. Are we the poorer for it? Has any good cause suffered as a result of this liberality? Have the contributions to feeble churches—to Foreign Missions—to the Sunday School Convention, been less than they would otherwise have been? Are there any fewer subscribers to the CENTRAL BAPTIST because of men's gifts to the College? Nay has not the cause of the College startled all from their lethargy-brushed the cob-websaway from the entrance to christian pockets and from these opened purses gifts have flowed forth to every good cause. Nay, we are not yet exhausted. Those who have felt the pleasure of consecrated giving, will give again.
